HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS AND Hoofland's German Tonic. The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts,) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC, Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. These who have no objection to the combination of the bitters, as stated, will use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC. They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable. The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc, is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit these well known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS AND HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC, Prepared by DR. C. M. JACKSON, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public. These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY, Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fever, &c.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE, And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and vigor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE. It is a well established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health, or, to use their own expression, never feel well: they are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite. To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN, Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail. Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. These, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes: Philadelphia, March 18, 1767. "I find 'Hoofland's German Tonic, useful in diseases and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Philadelphia, April 28, 1866. "I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D., Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia. Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully, J. H. KENNARD, Eighth, below Coates St.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL. Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia. I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours truly, E. D. FENDALL.

CAUTION. Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. See that the signature of C. M. JACKSON is on the wrapper of each bottle. All others are counterfeit. Principal Office and Manufactory at the German Medicine Store, No. 631 ARCH Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

VOL. XXIV. HUNTINGDON, PA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1868. NO. 8.

Address of the Soldiers' and Sailors' State Central Committee.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19, 1868.

The Committee have thought it proper to lay before their constituents a brief but full statement of the reasons which should induce all loyal American citizens, at the coming Presidential election, to vote for Grant and Colfax; and in doing so, they will proceed at once to a discussion of the grave questions to be settled by the decision of the American people, in November next.

It is no less a question than whether a rebellion, successfully ended, shall be followed by a permanent peace or by a new rebellion, to be headed by a Democratic nominee, with the advice and assistance of his co-nominee, General Blair.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE WAR?

Mr. Rhett, of South Carolina, a leading rebel, said after the ordinance of secession was passed by the convention of that State: "The secession of South Carolina is not the event of a day. It is not anything produced by Mr. Lincoln's election, or by the non-execution of the fugitive slave law. It has been a matter which has been gathering head for thirty years."

General Andrew Jackson, our patriotic President, in 1833, said of the nullifiers and secessionists of his day:—"The tariff was only the pretext, and disunion and a Southern Confederacy the real object. The next pretext will be the negro or slavery question."

To the Democrats of the slave States it became clear that Mr. Lincoln must be elected in November, 1860, and Mr. Koitt, speaking from South Carolina, said: "In my judgment, if the Black Republican party succeed in the coming election, the Governor should immediately assemble the Legislature, and that body should provide for a State Convention, which should protect the State from the dishonor of submission to Black Republican rule."

The same sentiment was openly avowed by the leading Democrats in every slave State, and the Democratic party was sedulously prepared for secession and a forcible dissolution of the Union.

The address then reviews the election of 1860, and continues:

During this whole period, up to the 4th of March, 1861, Mr. Buchanan, a Democrat, was President, with a Cabinet of whom, originally, only two were Union men.

The Democratic Secretary of the Treasury having injured, to the utmost of his power, the finances and credit of the nation, stole away on the 10th of December, and became the President of the provisional rebel Congress. On the 29th the Democratic Secretary of War, who, at the instance of Jefferson Davis, filled the Southern arsenals with United States arms for rebel use, resigned and was followed on the 8th of January, 1861, by the Democratic Secretary of the Interior, whose department had been robbed by a subordinate, while the Democratic Secretary of the Navy, who must have known the intentions of his colleagues, had distributed our naval force on distant stations, from which it would take months to bring them home.—The Democratic Attorney General advised the President that he had no power to coerce a State, in which opinion the Democratic Executive coincided, and of course took no measures to prevent the robbery of arsenals and mints, the seizure of public vessels, and the capture of forts, with the firing on ships of the United States conveying provisions to United States troops in United States forts.

Southern emissaries swarmed at Washington, postponing, by every device, all measures of the Government tending to counteract the active and constant preparations for war by the rebel slave States. Mr. Keitt, in November, 1860, said: "John Hickman said, defiantly, that if we went out of the Union eighteen millions of Union men would bring us back. Let me tell you there are a million of Democrats in the North, who, when the Black Republicans attempt to march upon the South, will be found a wall of fire to the front." And Mr. Durgan said: "It is not true in point of fact that all the Northern people are hostile to the rights of the South. We have a Spartan band in every Northern State."

On the 5th of January, 1861, the Mayor of the city of New York, a sound Democrat, said: "It would seem that a dissolution of the Union is inevitable." He then propounds the question whether the city of New York, throwing off its allegiance to the General Government, may not become a free city. "If the Confederacy is broken up the Government is dissolved and it behooves every distinct community, as well as every individual, to take care of themselves." But, as these doctrines savored strongly of treason, the prudent municipal Executive added: "But I am not prepared to recommend the violence implied in these views."

On the 31st of January 1861, a great Democratic Convention was held at Albany, composed of the most influential men of the party. On that day and on the next seven slave States had seceded, and four days afterwards the Confederate Congress met, and announced their separation from the Union to be "perfect, complete and perpetual," and fourteen days afterwards Jefferson Davis was inaugurated as President. One of the speakers at Albany presented and approved the view of the election of Mr. Lincoln taken by the South Carolina rebels.—"The Democratic and Union party at the North," said he, "made the issue at the last election, with the Republican party, that, in the event of their success, and the establishment of their policy, the Southern States not only would go out of the Union, but would have adequate cause for doing so."

Governor Seymour said: "Revolution has already begun. We are advised by the conservative States of Virginia and Kentucky that if force is to be used it must be exerted against the united South." "Let us also see if successful coercion by the North is less revolutionary than successful secession by the South." After praising the valor and sagacity of the men of the South, he urged the necessity of compromise in language which he repeated even in the last month of the expiring rebellion. "The question is simply this—shall we have compromise after war, or compromise without war?" Rejecting all idea of coercing the Southern traitors, and assuming that treason must be successful.

The milk and water resolutions of this and of similar Democratic meetings in other States, served only to inspirit the Southern rebels, one of whom said to a member of Congress from New York: "If your President should attempt coercion, he will have more opposition at the North than he can overcome."

No Democrat, certainly not Governor Seymour, ever urged President Buchanan to maintain the Constitution by force, if necessary, and in the words of the hero of New Orleans, "solemnly proclaim that the Constitution and the laws are supreme and the Union indissoluble."

The address then gives many other proofs of the alliance of the Democratic party with the rebellion, and concludes:

These were the Southern Democratic friends whom Governor Seymour so lauded but a few weeks before, and whom he would not see coerced into discharging their duties as citizens of the United States—theoretical democrats, but practical monarchists; and these are the men who would have you believe they were not responsible for the blood of your gallant comrades.

By order of the Committee.
CHARLES H. T. COLLIS, Chairman.
A. L. RUSSELL, Secretary.

Washington and Grant Compared.

First—As Washington was the first full General in the first great war, so Grant was the first full General in the second.

Second—They alike fought through two bloody wars, yet neither of them was ever wounded

Third—They alike as commander-in-chief, received the final surrender of the enemies of their country, and very near the same place in Virginia, when the war was over.

Fourth—They alike said "let us have peace."

Fifth—They were alike firm, brave, unostentatious and incorruptible; alike self-made and self-reliant.

Sixth—They alike never made public speeches.

Seventh—The people, not the politicians, nominated and elected Washington, the first President after the first war, and the people, in like manner, have nominated and will elect Grant, the first President after the second war to reconstruct and restore the Government.

Eighth—As Washington was, so Grant has been providentially chosen and saved through every danger to do the great work assigned him, and as Washington was so Grant now is "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Will not the people mark these wonderful resemblances in the character and career of these two great men, and complete the parallel by electing Grant as they did Washington, to serve the country, which, under Providence, they saved?

☞A Kentucky Unionist writes to the Cincinnati Commercial as follows:

"Young men of the North, Conservative and War Democrats, may believe that the threats of revolution and rebellion in the South are idle. You are mistaken. All over Kentucky, nearly, bands of Confederates are organizing, holding secret night sessions, and praying that the election of Seymour may give them the opportunity of overturning the Southern State Governments and driving the Union men from the country. The Rebel spirit is rife in the land. You have the deciding votes. If you elect Seymour such a torrent of wild Rebellion will be set in motion as will startle you. If you elect Seymour hundreds of Union men who have stood by the old flag in the hour of danger, and have hazarded their lives for the Government, will be driven by persecutions, by cruelty, by Rebel malignity from Kentucky, to find a home elsewhere. We pray God that you may stand by us now. It is our only help. If Grant is elected we can prosper in peace, and live as we wish to live, for these men will not dare to produce discord with his hand at the helm. Do not desert us."

☞Vallandigham, who, along with Hampton, Forrest, et omne, now runs the Democratic machine, made a speech in Congress, on the 6th of July, 1861, just before the battle of Bull Run, in which he uttered the following sentiment:

"Then, sir, I am not a Southern man either—although in this most unholy and unconstitutional crusade against the South, in the midst of the insurrection and murder, to which she has been subject, and with which she is still threatened, with the torch of the incendiary and the dagger of the assassin suspended over her—my most cordial sympathies are wholly with her."

The issue is, "peace" or "revolution."

1860—1864—1868.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

In 1860 the Democratic party of the country divided itself into two parties. One faction, which afterwards nominated Breckinridge and Lane, demanded the dissolution of the Union even by force, unless the Southern States, comprising a minority of the whole people, were continued in their anomalous political supremacy and dictatorship. The other faction, led by Douglass, insisted upon the preservation of the Union, and denied the possibility of secession except through rebellion and a civil war. The difference between the two factions was best shown in the speech of Douglass at New York, where, when asked whether the South would not be justified in leaving the Union if Lincoln should be elected, he answered that secession for such cause would be rebellion and treason, for which those engaged in it ought to be hanged. The campaign proceeded, the Douglas Democracy publicly repudiating secession as treason, and the Breckinridge faction insisting it was a right to be justly exercised in case a Republican President should be chosen. In November the American people elected Mr. Lincoln, thousands of Democrats abandoning Mr. Douglas when they perceived that he had no chance of success, in order to make the national condemnation of threatened rebellion more emphatic.

In 1864 the threat had been verified; the rebellion had taken place, and civil war with all its horrors had visited the land. The Breckinridge section of the party had been openly in arms; and with the exception of a small minority of its members, who had entered the Union army or whose sympathies were with the Union, the Democratic party, North and South, was a unit in opposition to the war, and in favor of peace on almost any terms.—The emancipation of the slaves was resented as deeply by the Democrats of Vermont and Wisconsin as by the rebels of Georgia, both denouncing it as an unconstitutional blow directed against those engaged in armed treason against the United States.

The Convention of September, 1864, of which Horatio Seymour was President and Vallandigham and Pendleton were members, voted unanimously that the attempt to reduce the Southern Democracy, to obedience to the laws and the Constitution by four years of war, had been a failure; that Vicksburg was a failure; that the opening of the Mississippi river was a failure; that Gettysburg was a failure; that the final campaign then commenced by Grant in Virginia and Sherman in Tennessee, were destined to be failures; and, in short, everything must be a failure which had not been instituted by the Democratic party, with a view to the restoration of national affairs to their condition in 1860, and to the abandonment by the American people of any effort to wrest the government of the United States from the hands of secessionists. No Rebel Generals, publicly accredited as delegates, were at that convention; but there were many thousand rebel soldiers in Chicago at the time sojourning at Camp Douglas, and numerous rebel officers in disguise had swarmed here from Canada to consult with their brethren in Convention.—The result of the election in November, 1864, was an emphatic refusal by the American people to put the public interests, directly, or indirectly, in the charge of those who sympathized with the rebels in arms, and who proposed any other policy than the unconditional submission of all men, communities and States to national supremacy. The people repudiated the Democratic party and its candidates because of the thinly disguised, but essential identity in political sentiment and policy between the party and those actually engaged in the rebellion.

In 1868 the fraternity with rebellion and with rebels; the active sympathy with the "lost cause;" the confessed necessity of conferring upon the rebels the exclusive political power in their States, in order to give the Democratic party the faintest hope of success; the open promise to the rebels that if the candidates were elected, the results of the war should be reversed, and "the country be compelled to undo its usurpations," and that the old Constitutions and governments of the rebel States as they existed during the war should be declared the legitimate Constitutions and governments of those States, notwithstanding their disfranchisement of every person whose liberty depends upon the permanence of the American Union; the open and frank declaration that the acts of Congress since 1865, providing for the establishment of peace and order, liberty and equal rights in all those States, are "void," and therefore may be lawfully violated and resisted; the promise that a Democratic President and Cabinet will employ the army "to trample those laws into the dust;" the promise that the President elect shall declare who are to sit in the House of Representatives and "compel the Senate to submit" to his action—these professions, declarations, promises, amounting to the adoption of the recent rebellion and its actors by the Democratic party as its own—can leave no doubt in the minds of reasonable men as to the consequences of the election of Seymour and Blair.

Had Breckinridge been elected in 1860, the rebels would have seized the Government and forced the North either to submit to the slave power and to the extension of slavery as the supreme policy of the government, or to leave the Union. Had M'Clellan and Pendleton been elected in 1864 there was danger that the policy of the government at Washington and at Richmond would have been in accord, and that a peace on the basis of a separation of the States would have been concluded. These things the American people thoroughly understood, and resolutely forbade by the election and re-election of Mr. Lincoln. If in 1860 and 1864 there was satisfactory evidence that the cause of the Democracy was the cause of the rebels, the evidence in 1868 to the same effect is overwhelming. It is furnished by every line of the platform; by the speeches of Hampton, Wise, Vance, Forrest, Semmes, Cobb, Hill and Perry; and all that has been said and written by Frank Blair since the convention. The popular rebuke of Democratic rebellion was a crushing one in 1860, and again in 1864. Let 1868 witness an even more overwhelming storm against Seymour and Blair and the Hampton platform.

GENERAL LONGSTREET.

Gen. Grant his Choice for the Presidency

The New York Tribune relates an interview with General Longstreet, in this manner:—

Yesterday a chieftain of the late Rebellion, General James Longstreet, arrived in New York. Since the war he accepted the situation, and has used his influence to counsel and guide his people and to lead them safely back to an enduring peace. Yesterday evening a reporter of the Tribune called upon the General at the New York Hotel. Imagine seated at a table, a tall, well-built man in a suit of black. The face is a kindly, pleasant one, the beard is sandy and grizzled and the cheeks are flushed. The forehead is high and the eyes are grey and soft in expression. The mouth squarely cut denotes decision, and there is that quiet resolute air about him that reminded one of General Grant, whom he strongly resembles in looks and manner. Although suffering from an attack of fever, he bore himself resolutely above pain, and after dinner conversed freely upon affairs in the Southern States. As a part of the conversation bears directly upon the coming campaign, I give it in full.

Reporter—Do you think we will have better days in the Southern States?

General Longstreet—Assuredly. The cotton crop has been very large this year, and we will soon have capital of our own to work upon.

Rep.—Suppose Seymour is elected, do you think we will have another war?

Gen. L.—I cannot say as to that; but I believe that if he is elected it will open all those old issues, and we will have trouble; but I don't think he will be elected.

Rep.—What do you think of Grant?

Gen. L.—He is my man. I believe he is a fair man. I met him at West Point. I think he is above meanness. His silence is grand.

Rep.—There is one thing I would like to ask. It is in regard to the negro,

Gen. L. (smiling)—I will tell you all I know.

Rep.—Will he keep his contracts in regard to labor?

Gen. L.—I can relate my one experience. My men have worked well. They like to have a white man come out in the field and tell them what to do. There was always a class of lazy men who would sit in their houses and give their orders. These men deserve to have trouble.

Rep.—And in regard to jury trials—I mean negroes upon a jury bench.

Gen. L.—In some cases that is bad, for instance, where an action involves an account. Negroes generally are ignorant upon intricate matters of business. But if a district is disposed to do right with them, the jury may be divided—white and black. They (the negroes) soon learn, and appreciate the position.

Rep.—About negro supremacy.

Gen. L.—Ah, that can never be; it is silly to think of it. They can never be stronger than they are to-day, and the whites of the South know it, but they are misled by the politicians.

Rep.—In regard to the acts of reconstruction?

Gen. L.—I advise my friends to accept them, and come into the Union and try to bring about peace and prosperity. I told the people at Alabama, if they would not be guided by the politicians they would come out all right.

Rep.—And you think it will come out all right?

Gen. L.—I do; the crops are large. The cotton crop is worth $200,000,000. That is a step towards bringing about the desired result. Chase was my man. I think if nominated he could have been elected, and the Southern people would rally about him without knowing it; I cannot vote for Seymour; but any way, I think good times are not far distant.

SINGULAR FRIENDSHIP OF A CHILD AND A RAT.—A few days ago, says the Louisville Journal, the attention of the matron of the Protestant Orphan Asylum, situated on Fifth street, was directed to her little boy, a child four or five years of age, who was seated in the yard gaily and busily feeding a large rat that had climbed upon his shoulder, while both parties appeared to be on the most friendly and familiar terms possible. Upon inquiry, she learned that this singular acquaintance had commenced nearly six weeks ago, and that frequent meetings had since occurred between them. About midnight on Saturday last the lady was awakened by the child, and informed by it that there was a rat in the bed. As may be readily believed, she sprang hastily out, and, lighting the gas, found the rat snugly ensconced in the arms of her darling. Of course the animal was quickly put to flight, and since that time no new developments in this strange attachment have occurred

☞Gen. Grant and family were at Chicago on Saturday and Sunday on a visit to a brother.

☞"Pennsylvania is a doubtful State." It may be if Union Republican voters remain from the polls.

☞With Gen. Grant as President we would have a man who would know how to teach the rebels the allegiance they owe to the Government.

☞In 1860 the Southern fire-eaters threatened secession if they failed.—In 1868 they threaten revolution if they succeed.

☞The Democratic Legislative Conference met at Lewistown last week, and nominated John S. Miller of this county, and John Taylor of Mifflin county, to be beaten by Messrs. Brown and Martin.

☞Hon. D. J. Morrell has our thanks for an Almanac for 1869, the reading pages of which are devoted to interesting articles on American industry. The almanac should have a general circulation.

☞The Vermont State election takes place to-day, Tuesday. John P. Page is the Republican candidate for Governor, and J. L. Edwards is his Democratic opponent. The Republican majority last year was 20,184.

☞The daily papers are filled with murders, assassinations, and crimes of all kinds—not alone confined to the Southern States. Bad men and women are to be found everywhere, and it seems that crime is on the increase.

☞We are gratified to learn that our candidate for County Commissioner, Simeon Wright, Esq., is considered by all men, Republicans and Democrats, who are acquainted with him, to be one of our best men for the position. County Commissioner is an important office—and we believe we are safe in saying that Squire Wright is just the kind of man the tax-payers want elected.

GOING THROUGH THE MOTION.—The Democrats in putting Mr. Linton in nomination for Congress against Mr. Morrell can't expect to do more than go through the motion of voting for him. They don't expect to elect or come anywhere near an election. Mr. Linton is a very clever gentleman and made a popular member of the Legislature last year, but he can't go to Congress just yet.

Our Ticket Complete.

The Union Republican Representative Conference of this District met at Lewistown on Wednesday last and nominated the following gentlemen:

SAMUEL T. BROWN, of Huntingdon.

AMOS H. MARTIN, of Mifflintown.

These gentlemen can be elected by handsome majorities if the Union Republican voters in the District give them a united support, and we know of no reasonable excuse for refusing to give them such support. Mr. Brown is known to be one of the best men in the District, honest, competent and worthy. Mr. Martin is said to be an excellent man, very popular in his own county where he is best known. He has been elected to public positions two or three times in his county, and always ran ahead of his ticket, the best evidence that he is a good man.

Our ticket is now complete—and it is now the duty of every honest party man in the Union Republican ranks to go to work in earnest to secure its success by a handsome majority. Some of the candidates were not the first choice of a number of our voters, but they were the successful applicants for nomination and they are now entitled to the support of every man who respects party organization and party nominations. Anything short of an harmonious solid vote this fall will give room for "cutting" in future elections when the "outs" may be "in." A strong pull and a pull altogether will make the success of our whole county and district ticket easy. Look neither to the right nor the left, but go forward to victory with what party usage has given you.

Disappoint Them.

The Democrats are trying to make themselves believe that a large number of Republicans in this county will "cut" their ticket this fall. They count on running Mr. Miller and Mr. Africa far enough ahead of their party vote, with the assistance of Republicans, to elect them. Mr. Brown should have at least five hundred Republican majority in the District, and we believe that will be his majority if he is treated fairly, and as he should be by the Union Republican voters. Capt. Neely's party majority should be not less than one thousand. He cannot be defeated. He is fully competent for the position—and worthy as a citizen, soldier, and party man. While Mr. Africa may be a good man, in every respect, we claim for Capt. Neely the same, and we cannot imagine why Democrats pretend to claim success in the face of a heavy party majority against them. We would advise the Democratic candidates in this county not to expect much—they can get down easier after the returns begin to come in. They are very clever gentlemen, but they are on the wrong side of the fence with poles too short to knock down the persimmons. Grant, Colfax and Victory is the battle cry this fall—a party failure in October would not strengthen our cause in November.

ALL WORK TOGETHER.—The encouragement we are daily receiving from active friends throughout the county, makes our labor for the success of the Union Republican party cheerful and much easier than it would be if party friends were less active. At no time within twenty-three years of the existence of the GLOBE has it been more liberally supported by the people of the county. Union Republicans must approve of our course or they would not so earnestly work with us. We desire to work, and we desire to have cheerful and willing hands, and heads and hearts, to work with us—the more numerous the better—and the more zealously all work together, the more complete will be our victory over all opposition. Our numerous friends have our thanks for their assistance.

☞No Union Republican voter in Huntingdon county should fail to be active in the support of the whole ticket for the October election. A vote lost by the Republicans for the October election will be so much lost in the weight of public opinion on the side of Grant and Colfax. Old Huntingdon must do her duty—poll every vote solid—refuse to "cut" or "scratch" to accommodate Democrats who will stick to their ticket from beginning to end. Remember, Republicans, you cannot be defeated in any one of your candidates if you stand together and prevent your ranks from being broken. In Union there is strength—in union there is victory, and a cheerful victory in October will influence a heavy majority for Grant and Colfax in November.

☞Work, work, work—"blowing" won't win. See your neighbors—see that they are not deceived by the Democrats—see that they are supplied with at least one good Union Republican paper. Give them something to read and think over. One good live county paper is worth a cart load of "documents." Work with the fresh political news and arguments. Work, work, work—every voter can work and help to swell the majority in Huntingdon county, and save the State from going for the Vallandigham Democracy. Work, work, to the full extent of your abilities and influence, and the result will be satisfactory to every true Union man.

☞Go to work, Union men. Do not let victory be lost by inactivity

☞The question to be determined by Conservatives is, Shall we suffer most from rebel rule or loyal rule? During the war, the Conservative Democrats joined the Union ranks because the Democratic leaders were hand in hand and heart in heart with the rebel leaders, and they know so long as they voted that ticket they were playing into the hands of the Southern leaders for a separation of the Union. Through their conservatism, the country was saved, and now the country looks to the conservative element for its preservation. Surely, no man who voted the Union ticket during the war can think of voting against it this year. If he does, all his votes during the war against the disunionists are blanks. No faults of the Radical wing of the Union party of to-day should have one iota of weight in influencing a man to change his vote, when it is considered what is sacrificed in so doing. A man must vote now on one of two sides; one of these sides is in favor of preserving the fruits of a successful war against secession, and the other is in favor of yielding everything to gratify the cupidity and arrogance of Southern leaders. Wade Hampton declares he got what he wanted in the Democratic platform, and other rebel heroes declare that with the election of Seymour and Blair the Southern people will get all they wanted by the war. So the issue is made by the Democrats themselves, and it is now left for all voters, Republicans, Conservatives and Democrats, to deposit their ballots with these facts before them. A Conservative who voted against encouraging rebels during the war, has no excuse for voting to encourage them now. The Radical element in the Union party has committed blunders, but they were blunders that have not detracted from the restoration of the Government on a sure and substantial basis; but let the Rebel element in the Democratic party once assume power, and we will have a complete revolution of things as they now stand, and the restoration of the Union will be delayed for many years to come. The restoration of peace, order and prosperity depends upon the election of Grant and Colfax, neither of whom are Radical in sentiment; while universal disorder and destruction will follow the election of Seymour and Blair, both of whom will concede the rebels all they want.

☞The "colored friends" in the Rebel States are doing right well just now. The Democracy are feasting them almost daily—bidding for their votes. The following is a handbill lately posted at Helena, Arkansas, and it tells the tale how anxious the Democracy are to secure the negro vote:

BARBECUE AT LAGRANGE!

Thursday, Aug. 13, 1868.

COME ONE! COME ALL! BOTH WHITE AND BLACK!

As the infamous lie is in circulation that the meats for colored persons will be poisoned, we nail that Radical trick to the counter by offering CHOICE OF TABLES to our colored friends, or we will divide places with them.

H. N. HUTTON,
P. F. ANDERSON,
J. B. BRANDON,
Committee.

Helena, Aug. 10, '68.

What will the pure Democracy in the North think of such a mix.

☞A change for the better is at all times desirable, but what kind of a change can we expect by placing in power such men as Vallandigham, Pendleton, Wade Hampton, Cobb, and Northern Rebel sympathisers. The change such men would bring upon the country, we honestly fear, would be what every true man is trying to fight off. Better to suffer patiently the evils that exist than to do that which would increase them.

GREENBACKS AND BONDS.—General Carl Schurz in his speech at Pittsburg, spoke as follows on the greenback question:

"Now as regards the question of greenbacks and bonds. The Democrats say they wish to pay greenbacks. I will discuss the subject from their own standpoint. Suppose we try to pay in greenbacks. The first thing is to have the greenbacks. There are fifteen hundred millions of five-twenty bonds. The Government has three hundred and sixty-five millions greenbacks in circulation. There are two ways of obtaining the greenbacks; one is to tax them out of the people, and the other is to make new ones. There are now three hundred and sixty-five millions of greenbacks in the land, and how is it gold is one dollar and forty-six cents to-day. What does it mean? Why it means that it takes a dollar and forty-six cents in greenbacks to buy a dollar in gold, and how does this happen? Because the greenback is not money; it is only a promise to pay money. Consequently, the more paper money the Government has standing out, the less that money will be worth. What would be the result if the Government were to issue two hundred millions greenbacks more? It could not be otherwise than to have a damaging effect upon the industrial interests of the country. Greenbacks would be worth from twenty-five to fifty cents on the dollar, the banks would break, and business would come to a stand still. We could then go out into the territories, and when we wanted thread for our clothes take a rope. They tell you the workingman will profit by greenbacks, but I tell you he will suffer by such an inflation of the currency. We will not have to pay our bonds just yet; they can run fourteen years, and in that time we can pay them easily, and the South will be able to bear its share of the burdens. If you read the Democratic platform you will find it repudiation from line to line.

Congressional Conference.

HUNTINGDON, PA., August 20, 1868.

The Congressional Conferees of the 17th District of Pennsylvania, composed of the counties, of Cambria, Blair, Huntingdon and Mifflin, met here this day and organized by electing Gen. S. M. Green, of Huntingdon county, President, and Samuel M'Camant, of Blair county, Secretary.

The following named gentlemen appeared as conferees, viz:

Cambria county—George Fritz, C. T. Roberts, James Conard.

Blair county—Samuel M'Camant, Jas. Condron, Peter Van Devender.

Huntingdon county—John Scott, S. Miles Green, Hayes Hamilton.

Mifflin county—Abm. Rothrock, A. F. Gibbony, Augustus Troxell.

Hon. John Scott moved that Hon. Daniel J. Morrell of Cambria county be declared the nominee of the Republican and Union men of the 17th Dist. as their candidate for Congress in said District, which motion was unanimously carried.

Hon. John Scott then offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Union Republican party is in favor of paying the debt of the government according to the letter and spirit of the law under which it was created, in opposition to the idea of substituting one promise of the Government for another.

Resolved, That, to enable the Government to do this, American Labor must be protected against the competition of low-priced foreign labor; our Domestic Industry properly encouraged; the Internal Revenue system so adjusted and administered as to meet the interest and gradually pay the principal of the national debt, and if this be done the debt can be paid and the national honor sustained.

Resolved, That the power of Congress to impose terms upon rebellious States before their re-admission to the privileges of States in the Union must be maintained, and any attempt by an executive officer to treat the Reconstruction Acts as void will of itself be equivalent to a new rebellion.

Resolved, That we cordially endorse the course of our representative in Congress, Hon. D. J. Morrell, and in again presenting him to the voters of the District, we present a man whose eminent business qualifications, industry, practical sagacity and sound patriotism, and his personal knowledge of the sympathy with the wants of the laborer, from his personal intercourse with the hundreds of them employed by him as a manufacturer, commend him as a most suitable representative of our interests.

Samuel M'Camant, Esq., moved that the proceedings of this Conference be published in all the Republican papers in the District. Adopted.

On motion adjourned.

S. MILES GREEN, Pres't.
SAMUEL M'CAMANT, Sec'y.

Colored Democratic Clubs, and how they are Formed.

[From the Red River (La.) News.

"Achiel among them taking notes" saw the aristocratic "White Man's Party" manipulating its colored club formation in New Orleans a few nights since.

"Conscript officers were stationed on Canal street, and every colored man that came along, willing or unwilling, was collared and unceremoniously trotted up to the hall."

The wealthy and distinguished A. Giffen, before the war City Treasurer, and since the war State Treasurer, could be seen conversing with the dirtiest and blackest of Africans, patting persuading, and insisting on taking them up stairs into the Democratic Constitutional Club room and introducing them to the officers and members.

Sambola and other white gentlemen were walking locked arms with negroes of similar appearance. Some white gentlemen, locking arms with colored recruits, were seen rushing and pushing their way through the crowd, crying, "Clear the way for these gentlemen!"

These were white gentlemen, who for social companionship would scorn to be seen arm in arm with any white man of humble standing, however respectable.

Then for the club was arranged a supper at the Times office, and this is the introduction to a series of suppers which it is anticipated, with a few fireworks judiciously thrown in, will buy the colored men for Democratic votes as easily as Jacob bought his birthright from the hungry Esau.

Restoration of the "Lost Cause."

"Everything for which the South fought will be won," said Gov. Vance, of North Carolina, in his address to his neighbors after he returned from the New York Convention. He was laboring to inspire himself and his hearers with hopes of the election of Seymour and Blair, and speaking of the results which would follow that event, the chief of which was that it would, after all, make the rebellion a success. He did not say that the election of the Democratic candidates would merely put them in a better condition than they had been since their rebel armies were captured and their Confederacy swept out of existence, but that "everything for which the South fought will be won."

Governor Vance is not an idle declaimor, but a man who means what he says; and the key to his meaning is found in the words of Frank P. Blair, who in his letter to Col. Broadhead, says among other things equally treasonable and revolutionary—"We must have a President who will execute the will of the people by trampling into the dust the usurpations of Congress known as the Reconstruction Acts. I wish to stand before the Convention upon this issue." Upon this issue he did stand before that Convention, and upon that issue he was put in nomination for Vice President almost by acclamation. He and his letter were both accepted and endorsed by that body, and upon its fearfully atrocious propositions is the issue between the two great parties joined. Well may Governor Vance talk as he does, for what he says is true.

There are some people who think that these and other similar declarations were hastily and imprudently uttered by men whose blood had become intemperately heated in the enthusiasm of putting a great party into battle array, and that they said more than they really meant. But don't believe a word of it! These things were not said hastily and without deliberation; and any softening down of the tone which we may now hear from the more sagacious men will go for nothing. Blair's letter to Broadhead was endorsed by the New York Convention; and if the candidates should be elected, it will be taken, and justly so, as an endorsement by the nation of the sentiments therein set forth; and the President elect would feel fully warranted to do all that Blair says he must do, if, indeed, he will not feel bound, in obedience to the will of the people, to taken it upon himself to nullify the laws of Congress and disperse the governments of the reconstructed States. Bear in mind it is not proposed to repeal those laws, but to "trample them into the dust."

If those men are permitted to carry out their programme, as boldly and openly declared by themselves, it puts and end to this government; makes a military dictator of the "President elect," as Frank Blair expresses it, and sets everything afloat upon a surging sea of anarchy and confusion.—Then indeed the men who fought so desperately for four years to destroy this government will gain everything for which they fought—"everything for which the South fought will be won."

It were difficult to conceive of anything more atrociously wicked than that which these men deliberately propose to do; for it is nothing less than to throw us back into another civil war, to which the fearful addition of anarchy is to be superadded; for to propose that the executive shall be instructed, by the same vote which invests him with power, to trample the laws of Congress into the dust is nothing more nor less than a decree that the government shall be broken up; that the Constitution shall be rendered null and void; that the legislative and judicial departments shall be abolished; and that the President shall be an irresponsible autocrat.

Had Frank Blair written that letter after the nomination we might have supposed that the combined effects of his elevation and strong drink had turned his brain and made a mad man of him. But the letter had been written and published before the Convention met, and, so far from damaging his prospects, it was the very thing that carried him through. The rebel wing of the party were delighted with his sentiments and demanded his instant nomination, and the dough-faced wing promptly obeyed. That nomination made that letter a part of the Democratic platform. There is no getting over it, and what is more, there is no intention of getting over it. If Seymour and Blair should be chosen, the instructions laid down will be carried out to the letter; and it will be claimed that it is done in obedience to the will of the people. And the worst of all is, that the claim cannot be gainsayed; for if, with all those plain declarations of purpose put forth by the rebel-democracy before them, the people of the nation shall cast a majority of their suffrages for that ticket, the President elect will be bound to take it as their instructions to carry out Blair's programme as endosed by his Convention and re-endorsed by the people; and the rebels will take care that he does it.

Those rebels have managed to bind their facile fellow Democrats of the North as firmly as ever they had their negroes. They can make them do as they please, and they have done it.—They have succeeded in making Democracy and treason and rebellion identical terms, trusting to the strange potency of that much-abused party name to drag their "lost cause" out of that "last ditch" in which Grant and our brave soldiers buried it. They know as well as we do with what blind fondness thousands of the people of the North adhere to that word Democracy, and they now hope that the same unreasoning love of a mere name will give them a majority. And we know that nine out of ten—perhaps ninety-nine out of a hundred—of all the votes that will be cast for that traitorous and destructive ticket will be given for no other reason than that it bears the label of Democracy. Take off that label, and every honest Democrat would recoil from it with indignation and horror!—Pittsburg Gazette.

Ex-Senator Carlile, of West Virginia, Endorses the Ticket.

The following is an extract from a letter of ex-Senator John S. Carlile of West Virginia:

My opposition to radicalism is well known. That I would have saved the Union party from it, if it had been in my power, is also well known. So great was my opposition to the ultraism of Congressional legislation, and so sincere my convictions, that rather than abate the one or surrender the other, I gave up my place in the Senate, and for a time lost the confidence of my Union friends. I had hoped and expected that the action of the New York Convention would have entitled its nominees to the support of Conservative Union men.—Had its members pledged themselves to the maintenance of the right of local self-government in the States, as secured by the Constitution, nominated as their Presidential candidate a man of undoubted Unionism, who believed in the right of the Government to protect itself, and enforce its lawful authority, I should have voted for its nominees. This was not done. On the contrary, it is my opinion that Hendricks was defeated because he is not a believer in the right of secession. The war record of Hancock defeated him. Mr. Vallandigham's patriotism nominated Seymour, and crushed the aspirations of the Chief-Justice. The friends of "the lost cause" triumphed over the Unionism of the Convention, and the strife of the battle field is to be fought out at the ballot-box. As much as I am opposed to the radical legislation of the last six years, I am more opposed to disunion. So long as we are one people vicious legislation may be corrected, even constitutional amendments may be abolished, and constitutional liberty preserved; but once divided into separate States, under different Governments, liberty and prosperity, peace and good government, are lost forever. Grant will receive no support from secessionists or their sympathizers; they are all to be found in the ranks of the party supporting Mr. Seymour. The conservatism of Republicanism nominated Grant. The radicalism of Democracy nominated Seymour. If the Supreme Court shall decide, as the Democracy hold it will decide next Winter, the reconstruction legislation of Congress unconstitutional, it will doubtless be for the reason among others that the State has the right, free from Congressional interference or Executive dictation, to form for itself its own Constitution, provided it be republican in form. If this be so, the Governments created by Constitutions of the seceded States, under the laws of Congress, are nullities, and have no legal existence; the Governments created under Executive dictation must share the same fate, and these States will be remitted back to the Governments created by the Constitutions adopted by each after the passage of their several ordinances of secession and the repudiation of their allegiance to the Constitution of the United States. In this situation, with an Executive who thinks, with the late President Buchanan, that the Government of the United States cannot use force against the people of a seceded State to compel obedience to its lawful authority, will not disunion be a fact accomplished, and will not the war have been fought in vain? It is impossible, in the limits allowed by the press to communications of this sort, to do more than briefly refer to a few considerations that have brought my mind to the conclusion to which I have arrived. I may have occasion, before the election, to enter fully upon the vindication of my proposed action.—This, if done, I shall do before the people who have heretofore honored me with their confidence.

JOHN S. CARLILE.

We call attention to advertisement of Armitage & McCarthy, Insurance Agents, in to-day's Globe. This is a reliable firm.

Mr. Morrell was elected in 1866 by a majority of 1319 in this District. His majority this year should be made to reach 2500.

The Lutheran Sunday School held a picnic at Burchinell's Grove on Saturday last. We understand it passed off pleasantly.

The German Reformed congregations of this place and McConnellstown, intend sending a call to Rev. Dr. Keiffer, of Pittsburgh.

The gross earnings of all the railroads in the United States the past year amounted to $40,000,000 or equalling about 21 per cent. of their total cost.

A "nymph du pave" from parts unknown was arrested on one of our streets on Saturday night last. She had a number of satellites following her.

The Mexican monument in the Capitol grounds at Harrisburg is in process of construction. The base and lower pillars have been placed in position.

The Pittsburgh Commercial came to us on Monday last in a new and attractive dress. We are pleased to note this sign of prosperity in a first-class journal.

The trout-angler of the Altoona Tribune and the pike-fisher of the Lewistown Gazette went a-fishing last week, to Conemaugh. Neither caught anything but a ducking.

The Good Templars of Tyrone and vicinity held a pic-nic at Laurel Springs on Saturday last. The Good Templars of this place hold one at Sulphur Spring next Friday.

A bull got on a rampage in Allegheny city, and ran into a shoe store. An animal of the same species the other day walked into Mr. Schaeffer's shoe store in this place.—Significant!

Splendid! the treat of music to which we were served by the Huntingdon Silver Cornet Band on Saturday evening last. The music of "Champagne Charley" and other popular airs, tingles in our ears still. Thanks.

The Grant club of Altoona gave a street parade, recent. Their equipments consist of an oil cloth cape, black cap with red, white and blue band, and a lamp. They should remember that victory does not depend solely upon big shows.

A bee gave chase to our candidate for Assembly, Mr. Brown, at the Pleasant Grove pic-nic, and he retreated in good order, much to the merriment of the lookers-on; but while he fell back before a bee, it does not follow that our B will retreat before a Miller.

Mr. Joshua Harshbarger, Sah Omishman, has withdrawn as the Democratic candidate for County Commissioner, of Mifflin, and Mr. Thomas Hoop has been substituted. Mr. H. withdraws because it is against the doctrine of his church for a member to hold a political office.

The Presbyterian pic-nic at Pleasant Grove on Friday last was a tip-top affair, and every body appeared to enjoy it. The good things were superabundant, the plays were participated in by young and old with great glee, and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the day.

The citizens of Johnstown are erecting a town hall, 100 by 60, to hold eight hundred people; while Altoona is erecting one, 100 by 75, to hold fifteen hundred persons. So says the Tribune. The Huntingdon Town Hall and Market House has not yet made its appearance. Will it ever?

Almost a large fire occurred on Friday night last in Portstown, in the double dwelling house, occupied by Mr. Flood and Mr. Moore. Some hot coals fell on the floor in Mr. Moore's kitchen, and burned the carpet and fireboard. The family knew nothing of it until the next morning, although it burned all night in a slow fire.

Prof. Hall, at the U. S. Naval Observatory, discovered Encke's comet on the morning of the 14th. This comet has not been seen before for thirty years. In the latter part of September it will be visible to the naked eye between nine o'clock in the evening and two in the morning.

The following is an approved recipe for making blackberry cordial, which every family should keep on hand for use in cases of diarrhœa and dysentery, or simple "summer complaint" among children: To one gallon of blackberry juice pour four pounds of white sugar; boil and skim off; then add one ounce of cloves, one ounce of cinnamon, ten grated nutmegs, and boil down till quite rich; then let it cool and settle; afterward drain off, and add one pint of good brandy.

Railroad Project.

A correspondent of the Bloody Run Press thus refers to a railroad project that is now being talked of:

"The people of Perry are very sanguine of the early construction of a railroad through their county. It is the old Sherman's Valley and Broad Top road. The citizens of Bedford should feel interested in this road as it will be of untold benefit to them. It is to be built by a Reading Co., and will start at Harrisburg, will connect with the Huntingdon and Broad Top road at or near Huntingdon, and will there connect with the Pittsburg and Connellsville Road at Bridgeport, thus opening a new thorough route from Pittsburg and West Philadelphia and New York, shortening the route about 40 miles.—This route was surveyed in 1856."

We have seen a notice of this railroad before, but this is the first intimation we have had that it was to "connect with the Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad at or near Huntingdon." Indeed, we think the correspondent is building hopes which will not be realized. We cannot see how a railroad which is to start from Harrisburg will connect at or near Huntingdon, when it is intended as we think, to be a continuation of the Pittsburg and Connellsville road. We would like to see it connecting here, and we would also like to see the Broad Top Road extended to Bridgeport, but we are not sure either will be accomplished. The Penna. Railroad company would probably fight the former, and the H. and Broad Top Co., of itself could do nothing for the latter. The day is not far distant, we think, when the Broad Top road will be made to connect with the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad—perhaps at Bridgeport. Philadelphians cannot be dead too long to their interests, nor ought Bedford and Huntingdon, and the towns intermediate be asleep to theirs. The P. & C. road will soon be completed, when we will know better whether the link will be made between that road and the Pennsylvania Central.

Deserters.

The following official letter, which is of importance, will explain itself:

State of Pennsylvania,
Office of the
Secretary of the Commonwealth,
HARRISBURG, Aug. 26, '68

JAMES F. BATHURST, Esq., Sheriff of Huntingdon County:

Dear Sir:—Yours of yesterday is duly received inquiring my opinion of your duty as to inserting the law in relation to deserters in your election proclamation. The decision of the Supreme Court, to which you refer, decided the law unconstitutional so far as relates to deserters who have never been tried by court martial, but leaves the law in full force to such as have been tried.

Inasmuch, therefore, the 8th section of the act of 4th June, 1866, is imperative on the sheriff, and the law is in force as to the one class of deserters, I conceive it to be your duty to include it in your proclamation.

Most respectfully,
Your obedient servant.
F. JORDAN.

Our Band.

It is with feelings of pleasure that we again refer to our Band. We long since came to the conclusion that our Band had no superior and very few equals in the State, and we are more convinced in this belief the oftener we hear them. In this opinion we are not alone, for prominent musicians from abroad have declared that their music was perfect, and that our Band was superior to some so-called first class Bands in the cities. Our citizens, of right, take a deep interest in the Huntingdon Silver Cornet, and it is with pride that they speak of it, for it is the lively institution of our quiet borough. Thus the Huntingdon Band has become celebrated, and now the desire is with parties abroad to have an opportunity to hear a band that is so much spoken of. To all who desire to hear the boys, we would say, address Prof. E. W. Thomas, the popular leader and efficient teacher of bands, or O. E. McNeil, Secretary.

Meetings.

A Grant Club meeting will be held at Scottsville on Friday evening next.

A Republican meeting will be held at Shirleysburg on Saturday evening next.

Pennsylvania State Fair.

The Pennsylvania State Fair will be held at Harrisburg, commencing September 26th, 1868, and will continue four days. It promises to be one of the largest ever held in the State. The locality is very central, and accessible from all parts of the State by Railroads. We are informed by the Secretary that already many inquiries are being made by exhibitors with great promises of an exhibition of their articles. The grounds contain sixty acres and are located on the banks of the Susquehanna, within a convenient distance of the City of Harrisburg, and about one-half mile from the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The locality should insure a large and most interesting fair.

Retired.

On Friday night last, Miss Mary Stewart, who has for seven years past been employed as night telegraph operator in the Penna. Railroad office at this station, bade adieu to the office and the calling. While she has been in the business she has elicited the good-will of those who became acquainted with her, and also the commendations of the officials, for the faithful and efficient manner in which she discharged her duties. Mr. Strickler, of Lancaster, has been appointed her successor.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

PREMATURE DECAY.

Thousands go annually into premature graves because they neglect to preserve that inestimable blessing good health. Sufferers from Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Constipation and similar ailments, your disease will take its inevitable course and end your days on earth perhaps suddenly, unless you take the means to prevent it. But beware of false methods and use only a sure protection against the cause of these diseases, as well as the only absolute remedy for them. Fortify yourselves at once by a course of Mishler's Herb Bitters, and thus render your constitution and physique invulnerable to the attacks of epidemic disorders and the ordinary complaints which prevail in every locality. The most distinguished physicians of the present day use it in their practice, and positively declare that the whole science of medicine possesses no remedy that is half as efficacious for diseases arising from a disordered Stomach, Liver, Kidneys & Intestines. &c., as Mishler's Herb Bitters. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Dr. S. B. Hartman & Co., Proprietors, Lancaster, Pa. aug12,1m.

The examination will commence at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Teachers who are tardy in attendance need not expect admission into the class.

No teacher need apply for examination who will not submit to an examination in all the branches required by law.

Persons who are known to the Superintendent to use intoxicating drinks as a beverage, or to be of immoral character will not be examined. Those unknown to the Superintendent and directors must produce satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

Applicants are expected to be examined in the districts in which they apply for Schools. A certificate from the proper directors will be required before they can enter the class.

Directors are earnestly urged to be present at the examinations, and to make their selections of teachers, as far as practicable, on these occasions. Such a course would have a strong tendency to induce teachers to attend and prevent them from trying to evade a public examination. It would also relieve directors from much trouble in procuring teachers. It is hoped that those directors who favor the measure will give the requisite notices in their districts.

The special attention of directors is invited to the article headed "Teachers Salaries" found on page 46, Aug. No. Pennsylvania School Journal. It will be seen by the article referred to that the State Superintendent suggests that teachers be paid according to their proficiency, and according to their actual success in teaching. The article is most cordially commended.

The public are desired and respectfully invited to attend the examinations, but teachers who do not come to be examined but expect to be examined at some other place in the county are not invited, and if they will consult their own interests they will not attend.

D. F. TUSSEY, County Superintendent,
Huntingdon County.

The Insanity of Politics.

Under this caption, the Philadelphia Ledger, usually known as an independent journal, but with Democratic proclivities, printed, editorially, a few days since, the annexed dignified and candid protest against the revolutionary policy of the Democratic party. Showing, as it does, the occasion for serious alarm, and as bearing cogent testimony to the correctness of the interpretations which the friends of the Union have placed upon recent Democratic avowals of principles and intentions, the Ledger article deserves a thoughtful perusal. It says:

Every good citizen must look with profound regret upon a great deal that is now going on in the Southern States. There was room for the belief, after the rebellion was suppressed, and when the Southern people were brought face to face with the wide spread ruin that was brought upon them by that "gigantic blunder," assome of their statesmen called it, and crime, as the nation regarded it, that they would never more give countenance to the hotheaded and hair-brained orators and writers who had dragged them into that terrible desolation. But notwithstanding the bitter experience of the past seven years, that fruitful section of our country is stilled cursed with the influence and the active agency of the same classes of men. But a short time ago it was the belief of an unquestionable majority of the people of the old free States, that the planters, farmers, merchants, manufacturers, and all others in the South, engaged in industrial and productive pursuits, were heartily sick of all the memories of the late rebellion, and were anxious to put them all aside, so that they might get their business affairs into successful action once more, and go on with the necessary operations of life. There can be but little doubt that such was the case, and we cherish the belief that it still remains true to the masses of the people of that section of our country. Yet what wonder is it that many plain, good people in the North and West believe that the rebellious spirit still prevails, only waiting for another opportunity to break out afresh? They are told so day after day, and week after week, by those who are put forward or who put themselves forward as the representative spokesmen of the old slave States. This comes to us from conventions, from meetings, and through the partisan press. The utterances on these occasions are of the most mischievous character, damaging to the people of the South, and exasperating the people of the rest of the country. They are naturally looked upon as showing the temper of the great mass of the Southern people, and the inference quite as naturally follows that those who show such a spirit of glorification over the events of 1861 to 1865, will not be slow to repeat them if the chance presents itself, and that they are therefore not to be trusted. They boast of the achievments of the rebellion, they apostrophise the rebellious flag, they declare that the "Lost Cause" is to be resurrected, they speak lightly of murdering the "Northern Huns," they declare that their former comrades in arms are ready to rise again when the signal is given, and they deal generally in a grand round of the same style of exasperating oratory that "fired the Southern heart" before the rebellion, and which at last fired the Northern heart also. There is great danger that both may be fired again—and the worst enemy to the South could hardly desire a worse fate to befall that unhappy country.

Some of the most sagacious of the Southern newspapers it is true, have deprecated such speeches and publications as injurious to the canvass for the Presidency, and on this ground have tried to muzzle the slang-whanging speech makers and editors. But this is not a satisfactory ground to put the case upon at all. What is said and done is not condemned because it is wrong and bad in itself but because it is impolitic. Now, although this may go down with party men, it will not satisfy those whom the Southern people ought to be studious to retain as their friends. It will not satisfy those who desire to be generous to the South, because they wish to see the people of the South rescued from the ruin of the rebellion, but who at the same time hold their country above party, and will not associate themselves with any movement that keeps alive the spirit of the rebellion. It will not satisfy those thinking and independent voters who are not blindly bound to follow the dictates of party, and who in these days hold the balance of power among all parties.

WHAT WE ARE COMING TO.—General H. Carver, "the father of the Pacific Railroad," as he offers to prove, writes to an Omaha paper of his future intentions:

I mean to go right on, propose and establish, if I live, as nearly as possible, an air line route between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans (on the surfaces of which float nine-tenths of all the commerce of the world) for a railroad, with a track eight or ten feet wide. The passenger cars on this road will be traveling hotels, whereas Pullman's cars are only substitutes, and I first described them in my pamphlet written and published at Washington 21 years ago last January. These passenger cars will be large and splendid, accommodating from three to four and even five hundred passengers with all the comforts of any hotel of this or any other country. I will say to the public, call this Utopian, vain, visionary, if you please. My first plan of the present Pacific railroad was called so and laughed at five years after I had begun to recommend it, write articles for it, and in all ways to labor hard in its favor. Further, I mean, if alive when the road is completed and all things in order, to travel from the city of San Francisco to the city of New York inside of forty-eight hours. We have got a model car in New Jersey, built of cedar, with each wheel running by itself like a wheelbarrow, and a small engine, about as large as a barrel, in the bow of the car, and have run it at the rate of over two miles a minute with perfect safety and ease.

When Grant calls the roll in November most of his old comrades will answer, "Here."

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebel nacts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your faith, ers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. Store on Southeast corner of the Diamond, Huntingdon, Pa.

IF A HUMBUG,

What a wonder
That the doors
Are open wide;
Ever since the
First of August
Thousands have Pain Paint applied.
Those who live,
Or call it humbug,
Are the doctors,
Not acquaint;
For they always
Have been jealous
When their patients
Use Pain Paint.
Pile up facts
As high as mountains,
Flash the truth
Before their eyes,
But the cry
Is always humbug,
Men of science
Full of lies.

People know that liniments composed of Cayenne pepper, turpentine, harseberry, ether, &c., will produce inflammation and pain. To purchase such trash to stop Pain and Inflammation is ridiculous. Fire will not stop heat; a dumb brute shuns the heat, and knows enough to wade in a pond of water, when wounded, to reduce, cool, and cure Inflammation and Fever.

Plimps and gamblers try to look honest, but folks can read the face too plainly. Some try to persuade the ignorant that pills, physic, &c., cleanse the blood, purify the system, and do a hundred other things equally absurd. Everybody knows that it is false, and that no medicine can purify or increase a drop of blood. Food makes blood, bone, and muscle, and is the Staff of Life. Every dose of medicine swallowed is rejected, and hurried out of the system as quick as possible. It is an enemy; yes, a deadly foe. Constipation, ill health, and weakness, are the result of dosing, dosing, dosing the stomach.—The living system has enough to do without working herself to death in expelling and kicking out the pernicious nostrums poured down the throat. Food she welcomes when she needs it; you, asks for it. Let pill-makers and physic venders stop eating food, and see how long they can subsist on their blood-purifying, invigorating, health-giving medicines and cordials. What humbug is more transparent? A dog would feel so insulted, if offered a dose, he would curl his tail downward in scorn, and run away in utter disgust. All physical pain arises from inflammation. Put out the fire and you stop pain absolutely. You can stop pain as easy as you can quench fire with water. WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT subdues inflammation, heat, and fever one hundred times faster than ice. Thousands have had a practical test of its merits at the very moment of most extreme pain, and they can testify that it has not failed in doing its work. It is simple; it is harmless; it has no stain; it gives no smart; It is for sale by Druggists everywhere; and it is tested free of cost at 170 CHATHAM SQUARE, N. Y., and 622 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

My wife has an ulcer on her leg for thirteen years, caused by varicose veins, ulceration extended from her ankle to her knee, some pieces eating away to the bone. I have employed over twenty physicians at vast expense during this period. But all attempts at cure proved utterly abortive until I tried Dr. Wolcott's Pain Paint, which the doctors told me was a humbug. But humbug or not, it has done the work completely in less than one month, removing the pain at the first application. I kept wet leg wet with Pain Paint constantly until healed. I Pain be had more humbugs as useful as Dr. Wolcott's who wants I am well known in this city, any person Street, Now quiko further inquiry will call at 101 West the proprietor, and at the Hanover House, of which I am benefit derived by the quick I can satisfy them as to the May 12, 1868. of this Paint.
